

Whats UP BEIRMEISTER?!?

Here is what's happening wit the Brew Club.

- We need to keg the current Irish Red Ale for the Smoker. If anyone is available, I will be there on Thursday at about 2 PM to get this done.
- the Smoker is Feb. 22. If anyone has tickets, and would like to help dispense beer, please let me know. We will be collecting tips for this to help benefit the Brew Club.
- Our next Brew day is Sunday February 24. I would like to get started no later than 9 AM. We are making a batch of IPA for the Brazen Ashlar's Chili and Homebrew competition. The competition is March 23 at the Melrose Masonic Apartments, 326 Main St, Melrose MA 02176. We need many members there to vote for our beer. That is also the day of our first parade TOD in Lawrence, so hopefully everything will work out.
- March 29 and 30 is the Boston Beer and Cheese Fest. We are not participating in this, but Ben and Riverwalk Brewery will be defending their title from last year. Go to the Fest and vote for Riverwalk to retain their title. More info can be found here: <https://www.drinkcraftbeer.com/beerandcheese>. Saturday afternoon is already sold out.
- April 4 is our next regular meeting. Look for further details on where this might be in an upcoming email.
- April 6 is a Ceremonial. I would like to have at least 5 gallons available for this event. Our wives/partners are also invited to attend this event. For something to be ready we need to brew by early March.
- April 13 is the Uniformed Units Potentate's Reception. Another event I would like to have beer available for.

If anyone has any recipes or styles they would like to brew, just let us know. We've been brewing a lot of styles that I like, which is great for me, but I don't want to leave anyone out.

Any questions, just ask.

Take care,

Jeff
